New Rowing Organization Makes its Debut....

The North American Rowing Association (NOARA) has launched a new membership based organization that will provide services, products, and regattas to the rowing community in North America. NOARA will introduce new services that will include a wide range of rowing insurance products offered through Mariner Insurance Group, and other services designed to assist in the administration of rowing clubs and organizations. There will also be an individual membership that will include several benefits as well. NOARA has plans to sponsor several existing regattas and is planning for a series of new regattas beginning in 2009.

Jeb Rumbough, Senior Vice-President of Mariner Insurance, will serve as President of NOARA.
